#OneMovement for peace and respect – Girl Guides and Girl Scouts around the world unite against terrorism

The World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts today expressed solidarity with its members following the terrorist attacks on Beirut on 12 November and Paris on 13 November.

Our deepest sympathies go to the families and friends who have lost people in those terrible attacks and to the communities, cities and countries who are experiencing the fear and grief that accompany such appalling acts of terrorism.

The World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts is a global Movement of 10 million children, young people and volunteers across 146 countries. Our movement is dedicated to promoting unity and global solidarity and our programmes support children and young people to develop positive values, build understanding and empathy across diversity and act to create safe and thriving communities and nations.

We celebrate the work our global Movement already does to ensure that children and young people everywhere develop the skills, appreciation and leadership to build connections and find positive solutions to challenges.

We call on Guides and Scouts, and people everywhere, to continue to strengthen our solidarity against hate and fear, to work together towards recognising and respecting each other's values and differences and to meet our challenges with dialogue and compassion, not violence and division.

Our thoughts are especially with our Guide and Scout members in France and Lebanon and we send you the most heartfelt of well wishes in these dark times and all our support. Please do continue to share your messages with our French and Lebanese friends at:
